Product description:

The modular REKA column is a robust and versatile solution for urban lighting. Made of galvanized steel tube with a matte black lacquered finish, this 3-meter-high column is supplied in 3 sections that easily assemble with the included screws. Featuring a gate for electrical connections at the regulated height, this column provides efficient and durable lighting in a variety of urban environments.

Recommended Uses:

1. Roadway lighting on streets and highways.
2. Lighting for pedestrian areas and parks.
3. Lighting in residential and urban areas.
4. Lighting in commercial and recreational areas.

Advantages of Using a Detachable Column:

1. Ease of Transportation: Being detachable, the column can be transported more easily, reducing logistical costs and facilitating handling.
2. Versatile Installation: Allows for more flexible installation in hard-to-reach areas or areas that may require future modifications.

3. Simplified Maintenance: The ability to detach the column facilitates maintenance and component repairs, reducing long-term costs.
4. Adaptability: The detachable column adapts to different environments and specific lighting requirements, making it suitable for various urban applications.
